EDUCATIONAL APPS THAT DON'T NEED WI-FI OR DATA

Having internet access shouldn't be a requirement for kids to use great learning apps. Even if you don't have broadband access at home or you're worried about data limits on the go, these excellent educational tools are always ready when you are. From coding games to apps that encourage creative thinking, everything on this list provides high learning potential. Plus, they're so much fun that kids might not even realize they're learning.

FUN APPS THAT DON'T NEED WI-FI OR DATA

When you're somewhere the internet is not, it's hard to know if your kids' apps will work. And while many apps -- once downloaded -- don't require Wi-Fi or data, some do, and it's hard to tell which is which. If you're looking for games that don't need Wi-Fi, there's something for everyone here: puzzles, number games, even multiplayer party games. So if you want to be sure to stay out of a potentially sticky situation, check out this list of apps that don't need connectivity to work.

HOME LEARNING WITH THE RSC

Learning or creativity doesn't need to stop this Easter. Whether you're a parent looking for inspiration or a student wanting to get creative, the RSC have got lots of resources and ideas you can use. Shakespeare's play King Lear was first performed in 1606, shortly after a major outbreak of plague had shut down much of London, so it's possible he wrote the play during that time. But if you're not feeling inspired to write your own play just yet, head online for some activities that will help you to keep learning about his!

VIRTUAL 'WOK FROM HOME' COOKING LESSONS WITH WAGAMAMA

Another opportunity for the whole family to get cooking this Easter!
